

BIOGRAPHIES

GERMAIN ARCHAMBAULT, ing., MBA

Graduated in Chemical Engineering from École Polytechnique de Montreal in 1979, MBA from McGill - HEC Germain Archambault is currently President and CEO at Lavergne Group Inc. The Lavergne Group is a leader in the manufacturing of engineered recycled resins in electronic and automotive applications. The particularity of these resins: they come from recycled materials. Lavergne Group is the largest manufacturer of such resins in North America.

For over 20 years, Mr. Archambault work in the field of plastics and packaging. Before joining Lavergne Group Inc., Mr. Archambault has held management positions in several companies including most recently Interplast. He is very much involved in environmental activities and has had a great interest in sustainable development for many years.

Mr. Archambault was a member of the Board of the Centre Patronal health and safety of Quebec, and acted as Chairman of the Board of Directors until few years ago. Mr. Archambault is a member in good standing of the Order of Engineers of Quebec. He worked closely on several government committees including most recently the Joint Committee on recycled materials (MDDEP and Recyc Quebec).